```
X[1] \le 0.75
             gini = 0.667
           samples = 105
         value = [35, 35, 35]
                       X[0] <= 4.75
   gini = 0.0
                         aini = 0.5
 samples = 35
                       samples = 70
value = [35, 0, 0]
                    value = [0, 35, 35]
                                  X[1] <= 1.75
              gini = 0.0
                                  gini = 0.219
            samples = 30
                                 samples = 40
          value = [0, 30, 0]
                               value = [0, 5, 35]
            X[0] <= 4.95
                                                       X[0] <= 4.85
              gini = 0.5
                                                       gini = 0.061
             samples = 8
                                                       samples = 32
           value = [0, 4, 4]
                                                     value = [0, 1, 31]
   gini = 0.0
                       gini = 0.444
                                             gini = 0.444
                                                                   gini = 0.0
  samples = 2
                       samples = 6
                                             samples = 3
                                                                 samples = 29
value = [0, 2, 0]
                     value = [0, 2, 4]
                                           value = [0, 1, 2]
                                                               value = [0, 0, 29]
```